

A health network working for you:

- GPs and specialists working side-by-side.
- Making the broadest range of diagnostic options available to you.
- Other medical service providers complement the offering.
- All of our physicians and medical service providers know each other personally and have been working together closely for years.
- Your medical care takes place close to home and with personal attention.
- Preferential scheduling for referrals to other practises within the network.

QUALITY

All of the members of the Mein Arzt network in Wiesbaden focus on providing quality health care.

All of our practises have years of experience in their fields and have committed themselves to keeping their skills up-to-date with continuing education and training.

We consider quality to be much more than purely expertise in our field. Our structure makes it possible to share information across practises quickly and without lots of bureaucratic hassle. This allows us to offer flexible, interdisciplinary health care.

Regular meetings of our group promote our collaboration and share understanding of our network's principles. This is what sets our network apart from other health care providers, so that you receive first-class care and feel well.

Nearby – for your health

Mein Arzt in Wiesbaden

- is a network of more than 60 physicians and medical service providers
- means more quality in health care in Wiesbaden and surrounding areas.
- has many advantages for you as a patient

We are a group of general practitioners, specialists and other medical service providers who work together for a common goal: to provide patients from the Wiesbaden area with high-quality, targeted and effective health care.

We prefer providing personal care close to home and our patients appreciate that, too.

The many years of collaboration within our group offers important advantages for our patients. But you are free to go outside the network, as you desire.
